Student Associate Membership in CAUT

The Canadian Association of University Teachers is the national voice of academic staff in Canada. Representing 66,000 teachers, librarians, researchers and other academic professionals, CAUT defends academic freedom and seeks to improve the quality and accessibility of public post-secondary education in Canada. From lobbying governments to providing collective bargaining and legal support, CAUT actively advances the social and economic interests of academic staff. CAUT offers conferences, courses and workshops on a range of issues, investigates threats to academic freedom, undertakes extensive research and works in national and international coalitions with like-minded organizations.

As a graduate student, you may be considering the possibility of a teaching and research career. By joining CAUT as an Associate Member (Student), you can keep in touch with the academic community and future colleagues, and can be part of CAUT's activities.
