

Let's be clear on TRANSPARENCY

Decision-making powers are concentrated in the hands of a few, who act behind closed doors, while the voices of academic staff and other key stakeholders are being weakened or silenced.

Collegiality — or shared governance — is at the heart of what a university is and should be.

That's why the Canadian Association of University Teachers is working to open up Board meetings.

Shared governance.
Quality education.
