Re: February 12th is a National Social Media Day of Action
For Contract Academic Staff

The annual social media day of action for contract academic staff will take place on Wednesday, February 12th.

Provincial governments across Canada have announced drastic cuts to education, which will further compromise the working conditions of all academic staff. It is time for the federal government to step up and reinvest in universities and colleges. We need a stronger federal partner to ensure a high quality affordable and accessible post-secondary education that does not rely on precarious contract jobs.

On February 12th, CAUT encourages member associations and academics staff to share CAUT's tool to call on the federal government to take bold action to support our universities and colleges and commit to a renewed investment in the sector.

Share your message on social media using the hashtags #MakeitFair and #Fairness4CF.

If you have any questions, please contact CAUT's Membership Engagement Officer, Christina Muehlberger, at muehlberger@caut.ca or at 613-820-2270, ext. 182.
